

RESIDENCY REQUIREMENT

Residency Requirements for Attendance

California State law provides that public school districts are to serve only those children who are residents in the district or children who have an approved Interdistrict Transfer Agreement. Residency is defined as five (5) consecutive days and nights weekly in a domicile. Ownership of real property within the district does not in and of itself constitute residency. Employment within the district boundaries does not constitute residency. The Loma Prieta Joint Union School District routinely investigates addresses and declared residency to verify their validity.

Declaration of Residency

I hereby certify that the address as given for enrollment purposes is true and correct in that the child(ren) reside at that address no less than five (5) consecutive days and nights each week. I understand and agree that if it is determined that this information is false, I am in violation of State law and may be held liable for all legal, investigative, and/or educational costs that may be incurred as a result of any false information I have submitted. I further understand that if it is determined that a registered child is not a resident of the Loma Prieta Joint Union School District and does not have a valid interdistrict agreement allowing attendance, the child(ren) may be removed from the district immediately and may be denied all services by the District.
